JOURNAL CITATION REPORTS

Useful for finding information about specific journals, as well as determining the highest impact and 'hottest' journals in your field.
ALTMETRICS

• Measures the impact of research in online environments that fall outside of journal publications including …
  • News media, websites, wikis, Twitter, blogs, videos, conference presentations, and grey literature
• Tracks page views, downloads, links, citations, comments on blogs, tweets, and mentions in news media
• Services: Altmetric.com, ImpactStory, and Plum Analytics
Available through the Office of Research Services
Can help to provide organization level data
INCREASING IMPACT

ORCID ID – to uniquely identify your work

Profiles such as Academic.edu, ResearchGate, LinkedIn – can provide citations or link to your open access publications, as well as online bibliographies such as PubMed’s My Bibliography

Open Access Publishing
OPEN ACCESS

“Open access (OA) literature is digital, online, free of charge, and free of most copyright and licensing restrictions.” (Peter Suber, Open Access, 2012)

Gold OA  Publish in an OA journal that makes your article open access immediately or after a delay.

Green OA  Deposit a copy of your work into an institutional or disciplinary repository.

Not mutually exclusive! You can publish an article in both
BENEFITS OF OPEN ACCESS

- More exposure for your work
- Practitioners can apply your findings
- Higher citation rates
- The public can access your findings
- Compliant with grant rules
- Taxpayers get value for money

Researchers in developing countries can see your work
TRI-AGENCY OPEN ACCESS POLICY ON PUBLICATIONS

“Grant recipients are required to ensure that any peer-reviewed journal publications arising from Agency-supported research are freely available within 12 months of publication.”

CIHR – for research funded in whole or in part and applies to all grants awarded January 1, 2008 and onward

NSERC & SSHRC – for research funded in whole or in part and applies to all grants awarded May 1, 2015 and onward

Tri-Agencies also have a Statement of Principles on data management and CIHR has some requirements
UBC LIBRARY'S OPEN ACCESS REPOSITORY

clIRcle offers:

• persistent link to your work (DOIs)
• increased exposure to your research (searchable via Google)
• download statistics
• long-term preservation
• you retain the rights to your work
